

Looking for an internship? Choose Wrocław – the meeting place!

This is not an ordinary internship offer. We are just like you – we studied and worked abroad. Now, we want to help those who come to Wrocław. Boost your skills with The Renting Zone!

We don't expect you to possess any mystery knowledge, years of work experience, and superpowers. All we need is your energy, humour and zest. We make a young and creative team. If you work with us, you will be able to learn new skills and write texts for your peers on what you find interesting.

If you enjoy writing, are fluent in English and have tonnes of energy, we want you! Help us promote Wrocław and have fun developing your skills. We are giving you the opportunity to publish your own writing and get a taste of how work for the marketing department of a fast-growing company looks like.

We want you if you:

- are a good writer in English – have a blog? Send us the link!
- like to share your thoughts
- like to read quality texts and know how to make them
- use social media on everyday basis
- handle the Internet and are interested in online marketing
- have a great sense of humour and lots of ideas
- like to party and socialize 😊

Here is what you will be responsible for:

- writing lifestyle articles
- co-operation with the marketing department
- help in planning the content for our web service and blog
- showing up on parties and events, and delivering feedback
- the research for your articles
- work on promotion materials
- supporting the organization of attractive events

What do you get for your work?

- you have your share in an interesting, international project
- work with really cool people
- experience in marketing
- all the necessary tools and equipment
- a chance to become a local celebrity 😊
