Short Description of the Company	LinkedAge is a communication tool that serves elderly to exchange the accommodation facilities in different regions over the world, to create networks, increase mobility and promote social inclusion of elderly. Short video presentation: http://vimeo.com/54589505 LinkedAge was recognised as most innovative idea 2012/2013 in Slovenia.
Other	LinkedAge is not only a platform, but it is a communication tool offering retirement homes a distribution channel to sell and promote their free capacities to senior's that are willing to travel for less money spending in hotel industry and to seniors with special care that only social care homes can provide. At the same time we also offer a »candy« to seniors already living in retirement homes that can find the exchange for free for a short period of time. So there are two concepts of the service. If we talk about the first concept of LinkedAge used to find paid accommodation under very favourable conditions, simply we are a booking tool as for example a booking.com for hotel industry. At the same time the second concept of LinkedAge is serviced oriented to existing customers living in retirement homes, as the concept of exchange (such as Erasmus for seniors).
